Funktioner

Independent Arm Resistance

The machine allows each arm to move separately, ensuring balanced muscle development and improving overall strength symmetry. This function is perfect for targeting each bicep independently, reducing the risk of imbalances over time.

Angled Arm Pad

The thoughtfully designed angled arm pad not only enhances comfort during workouts but also supports better alignment, reducing unnecessary strain on joints and maximizing the efficiency of every curl.

Durable Belt Drive System

Built for consistent, smooth operation, the belt drive ensures reliable performance even in high-usage settings, making it a dependable piece of equipment for any gym.
